Remembrance Day 1953

It is simple enough to go into the story of Armistice Day. Why we observe it... with what tribute we gather at the cenotaphs and the graves of our soldiers. But if our revenge ends there, we've accomplished nothing, and all the fighting that has been done has been in vain; all that has been fought for becomes a dream, still in the far distant future. Now, in these troubled times we surely realize that the quest for peace did not end with the last shot that was fired, that we didn't achieve the glowing goal of peace with the end of hostilities. Let us resolve this day to turn our hearts... our prayers... our work towards a world peace... a lasting peace. Let us renew our pledge and our faith as we pause in respect for those who died for us, to assure them and ourselves that they shall not have died in vain... that world peace shall become a reality forever.

I AM A CANADIAN

I am a Canadian living in comfort won for me and guaranteed by the sacrifice made by thousands of Canadians that fought the enemies of Democracy during two world wars.

"I am a Canadian". I am proud to take these words for my own, proud to be part of a great hope that man is and of right ought to be free. I am a Canadian free to work, to build, to speak and to worship. I have faith in Canada because I know that Canada is right, because I believe in freedom. I am proud of Canada for thousands have lived for it, thousands have sacrificed for it, thousands have strived for it and thousands have died for it.

In the light of those sacrifices I am proud to say I am a Canadian.

Church Bells Recall B.C. Pioneer Days

WINDERMERE, B.C. — The bell that rings today in the belfry of St. Paul's Anglican Church at Golden, B.C., should be in St. Peter's church here. And St. Peter's church should be in Revelstoke.

It's a long story. Another B.C. town, Donald, had a fine Anglican church with a 600-pound bell given by Baroness Burdett-Coutts, the English woman after whom a couple of Alberta towns were named.

But in 1899 the Canadian Pacific Railway decided to make its divisional point from Donald to Revelstoke, B.C. That doomed Donald and all the town's buildings were ordered removed.

Revelstoke applied for and was given authority by the diocese to obtain the church building. A crew was recruited to arrange transport but when the crew arrived in Donald, the building was gone.

Someone, apparently attached to the church, had heard it was to be moved to Revelstoke. In any case, the church was loaded on a flat car and moved to Golden, then put on a barge and taken 100 miles up the Columbia river to Windermere.

There was quite a furore about the situation but in time all was forgiven.

In the meantime the people of Windermere wanted to know what had happened to the church bell. Later it was learned that an employee of the barge company that moved the church up the Columbia was a member of the Church of England. He took a fancy to the bell and before the barge sailed, the Golden church was in possession and there it remained.

Kitchen Meditations

ON CLOSING AN OLD HOME

I will miss the humming birds which hover outside my kitchen window above the flowers; the brightly blooming flowers I have tended each day. I will miss the smell of newly cut grass; the cool shade of the maple trees about my garden; the kindly folks and children as they pass my door.

I will miss the homey things of life; my kitchen range, a comfort to an old body's chill; the box of kindlings, and the water pail sitting by the sink. I will miss the growing things, the geraniums on my window sill—the fuchsia, begonias and the heavily laden cupid's bower.

I will miss all these familiar things. Yet, the years press heavily, and I must seek warmth, convenience and companionship elsewhere. A room or two, henceforth, will be my dwelling place. But, oh, I will miss this old home!

BANDED DUCKS SHOT NEAR JANSEN LAKE

WATSON, Sask.—The Hanson Brothers of LeRoy were out shooting on September 25, and among the bag they discovered two wild ducks bearing Brand Numbers 526-53603 and 537-23611 from the Fish and Wildlife Branch at Washington, D.C.

These ducks were shot near Jansen Lake, about five to six miles southwest of LeRoy.

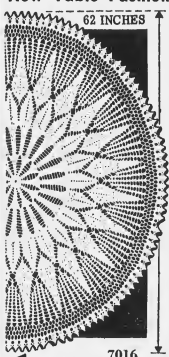

Drive With Care!

GAME BIRDS PROVE COSTLY TO CITIZENS OF DELBURN, ALTA.
DELBURN, ALTA. — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ratcliffe had an expensive few minutes on Monday morning. A partridge came crashing through one of the house windows (36x24) circled the room and crashed out another window (36x18) snagging the window curtains as it went. Replacement of glass and curtains is estimated at $20. Gun shots were heard in the area just after the bird left, and in all probability shooting caused the bird to act in the frantic way it did.

Miss Pearl Ratcliffe got quite a fright on Saturday afternoon while sitting reading a paper, when the glass in an east window at the house crashed. At first it sounded like a shot, but upon investigation it was found that a prairie chicken was in the room! It was the cause of all the commotion, but paid for it in the frantic way it did, a day or two later.

There was a scream of brakes as the bus pulled to a sudden stop to avoid a flustered-looking pedestrian who was dithering in the roadway.

Crimson with strain and rage, the driver leaned out of his cab. It was plain he was controlling himself with a great effort as he asked, politely, "May I ask what are your plans, sir?"

The scene was the office of an insurance agent. The applicant for insurance had handed in his completed form, and the agent looked over it.

"This seems all right, Mr. Jones," he said, "except for one thing. Where it asks the relationship of Mrs. Jones to yourself, you should have put 'wife', not 'strained'."

A conceited golfer, after teeing off, measured the distance to the next green with his eye and announced: "A drive and a putt will do this one." Then he played. The ball rolled off slowly and came to rest a few feet from the tee. Politely his caddy handed him a putter, saying brightly: "This putt will be worth telling the boys about."

They were canceling in the moonlight. "How bright the stars are tonight," he said. "Almost as bright as—"

"Oh, you flatterer!" she ejaculated. "As they were last night," he continued calmly.

It was guest night in the mess, and the colonel began to tell an exciting story of an encounter with a wounded tigress which sprang at him and threw him to the ground. At the critical moment an orderly entered to report that the colonel was wanted on the telephone.

He was away for 10 minutes, and on his return had forgotten which of his favorite stories he had been telling.

"What happened, colonel?" asked one of the guests. "You were telling us of your dangerous situation."

"Oh, I kissed her," said the colonel, airily. "She simply couldn't resist me, and we dined together that evening." 3060

Funny and Otherwise

"Your wife wants to send you a kiss over the 'phone, sir."
"Oh, take the message, Miss Smith, and give it to me later."

Cooling over the new baby, one visitor said: "He's got his Daddy's eyes."

"And his Mummy's nose," gurgled another.

"And he's got Grandpa's gums," commented the infant's four-year-old sister, quite seriously.

"This is a shocking report—Latin, poor. French, indifferent. Mathematics, bad. Conduct, fair."

"I admit it's not up to much, Dad. But just look at that—'Health, excellent'."

The seaside landlady entered with a plate of bread and butter so thin that her boarders gazed at her in dismay.

"Did you cut these, Mrs. Brown?" asked one.

"Yes—I cut them."

"All right—I'll shuffle and deal."

Minnesota Man Wins

Lac la Ronge Produces Biggest Lake Trout In Angler's Derby

PRINCE ALBERT.—Without a word of an angler's lie, the biggest fish caught in Saskatchewan this year were bigger than ever before.

Results of the 1953 Saskatchewan Anglers' Derby announced today by Provincial Fisheries Director A. H. MacDonald showed that in five of the nine derby classes, this year's winning entries were all-time highs.

Lac la Ronge continued to live up to its name by producing the biggest of them all—a 41-pound lake trout taken by A. J. Rudolph, of Rice, Minnesota. Rudolph's prize-winning trout was the biggest ever entered in the five years the sport fisherman's classic has been running.

His nearest rival was Mel Caschman, of Saskatoon, with a whopper weighing 40 pounds and one-quarter ounce, good enough for second place in the lake trout class.

Coming closest to Rudolph's 41-pounder was the prize-winner—37 pounds, four ounces—entered in 1949. According to the record book, this one was also taken in Lac la Ronge.

Harvey W. Schulte, of Gary, South Dakota, landed the biggest of the great northern pike this year with a 30-pound (previous record, 27 pounds, 12 ounces, taken in 1951) caught in East Trout lake. Runner-up was R. G. Seewalt, of Goodsoil, with a 28-pound pike taken in Lac des Isles.

One of the biggest surprises of the year was a 13-pound, nine-ounce pickerel (previous record, 11 pounds, 1951) caught in the South Saskatchewan river. A Saskatchewan man, Dave Schneider, of Burdett, was the derby winner here. Second prize winner was Henry Huber, of Regina, with a pickerel weighing a respectable nine pounds, six and a half ounces, caught in Last Mountain lake.

Michel Stevens, a 12-year-old from Stony Rapids, Saskatchewan, was the youngest derby competitor to be a winner. All he had to do was walk a few steps to the Fond-du-Lac river to pull out grayling, good for first prize. Other winners were:

Brown trout: V. D. Hay, of Oulu lake, with a fish weighing five pounds, six and three-quarter ounces, caught in Swift Current creek. Second: Bruce Hammond, of Shaunavon, with an entry weighing three pounds, 12 ounces, caught in the Little Frenchman river.

Brook trout: Lenard Chernysh, of Prairie River, with a fish weighing three pounds one ounce. Brother Edward came second with a three pounder. Both fish were taken in the Prairie river.

Rainbow trout: Montague Wylie, of Maple Creek, with one weighing two pounds, four and a half ounces. Runner-up was G. W. Parsonage, of Merry Flat, with an entry weighing two pounds, three ounces. Both entries were caught in Battle creek.

Goldeye: Duncan McLeod, of Saskatoon, with a record-breaker weighing two pounds, eight ounces (previous high, two pounds three ounces, 1951) caught in the South Saskatchewan river. John

Cow Proves Bargain To Manitoba Farmer

WINNIPEG.—The cow Lucien De Meyer added to his herd two weeks ago was a real barnyard bargain—she obliged her owner by giving birth to triplets.

The calves—mother and children are doing well—were born during the weekend in the De Meyer dairy farm at nearby Charleswood.

Mrs. De Meyer said her husband was "pretty sore" Saturday night when he discovered his new Holstein had produced but one offspring, and a male at that.

"But when he went to the barn Sunday morning he found two heifers in there as well. They'd arrived late."

Overdahl, of Kinistino, and John MacLeod, of Steep Creek, were tied for second with entries weighing two pounds, five ounces. Both fish were taken in the North Saskatchewan river.

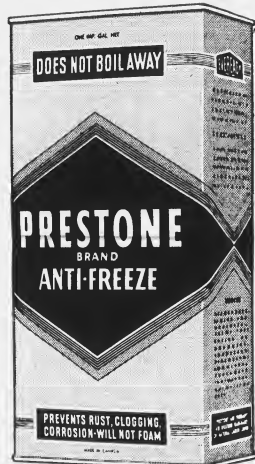

Perch: Andrew Simon, of Yellow Creek, set a new record in this class (previous one, one pound, ten ounces, 1952) with a fish weighing two pounds, seven ounces, caught in Fishing lake.

The closest Gordon Woodley, of Drinkwater could come to this was with a perch weighing one pound, nine ounces, caught in Last Mountain lake.

Keeping pace this year with the record-breaking fish caught, was the record number of entries in the derby—82. This sportsman's classic is sponsored annually by the fisheries branch of the provincial natural resources department and the Saskatchewan Fish and Game League.

Derby prize-winners receive a cash award and a certificate signed by the minister of natural resources, director of fisheries and officers of the Fish and Game League. The certificate is to show that the holder's fish stories are true.

Hold That Ball!

If you want to get on the right side of your football coach, if you want your team to win more games, make sure you develop skill at holding onto that ball, no matter how tough the circumstances. And you can develop this game-winning skill, if you use the following system.

First, always hold the ball in the arm farthest away from the possible tackle. For example, if the tackler approaches from the left side, hold the ball on your right side. This will leave you free to "straight arm" and will make it hard for the tackler's head, shoulder or hands to knock the ball loose when he drives in.

Second, the moment you are tackled wrap your free arm around the ball and concentrate on holding onto it with all your strength. Holding onto the ball should be your first thought once you are tackled. One thing that causes a lot of fumbles is putting your hand out toward the ground as you go down. This is not only one sure way to fumble, it is also a dangerous practice that often results in injury. So remember, wrap both arms around the ball when you are going down or when you are tackled.

Finally, always keep this fact in mind. Many fumbles occur when the ball is snapped or handed to the ball-carrier as the play starts. Take the ball with your hands relaxed, fingers well spread and don't grab at it hurriedly, keep cool and take it smoothly. Remember, learn to hold onto that ball and you'll make a play that really counts, for you and for your team.

Stay In Shape

Many athletes let themselves get out of shape between seasons. This is a great mistake as it means more time must be spent at the start of each season to get into condition. Then too, there will be more aches, pains and nausea. Stay in good fundamental shape by doing the stationary Sprint-Jog. Jog slowly on one spot for one minute, move to full speed for five seconds. Five or six minutes of this every day will keep you ready for hard physical work.

Use Enriched Bread

Recently a new government regulation was passed making it possible for the bakers of Canada to enrich the flour used to make bread with certain vitamins and minerals. This development is something of special interest to all athletes, coaches and trainers and parents of active children because as bread constitutes such a large part of the athlete's diet it is important that the bread eaten be as nutritious as possible. The B vitamin elements and the iron that is part of the enrichment process are elements especially important to active athletes.

So, take a tip and make sure you take full advantage of this new development and make sure you eat enriched bread.

$500,000 BRIQUETTE PLANT FOR COLEMAN

Coleman Collieries Figure Plant To Operate In February

Coleman Collieries Limited announced last weekend the start of a briquetting plant to be located in Coleman at a cost of $500,000.00. Rumors and speculation have been rife for the past couple of weeks, the official announcement given to the Journal by F. J. Harquail, Managing Director, on Saturday. Details as to the new project have been released and show that the new industry has a great potential for Coleman people.

Location:

The plant is located adjacent to the International Coal Cleaning Plant at Coleman, Alberta. The plant is so located that two storage bins formerly used for coke oven operations and having a total capacity of 800 tons can be used for briquette or slack coal storage.

Type of Building, Etc.

The building will be steel frame construction covered with sheet iron inside and out, and insulated. The building will cover an area of 2990 square feet, and will be 39 feet high.

High pressure steam will be secured from a 150 H.P. boiler being installed in the present International boiler house and additional steam at 100 pounds pressure will be secured from the present International steam installation.

Asphalt storage will consist of two ten thousand gallon storage tanks which will be insulated and steam heated.

Railway sidings for unloading slack coal and loading briquettes will be the trackage now installed for the operation of the International Coal cleaning plant.

The initial installation will be a one unit Komerak-Greaves press having a capacity of thirty tons per hour. Operations will be on a continuous basis which means an annual capacity of 240,000 tons of briquettes.

All conveyor equipment installed will have sufficient capacity to handle an additional press.

Cost of Plant

The plant will cost $500,000.00 of which $300,000 will represent new equipment, the balance being $200,000.00 will be equipment transferred from other operations and now idle.

The plant is so designed that a second press which will double the annual rate of production can be installed if market conditions warrant at a cost of $250,000.00.

It is estimated construction will finish in January, 1954, and the plant will be in operation by 1st February, 1954.

"STAGE" SERIES RETURNS

Producer Andrew Allan (left) and composer-conductor Lucio Agostini (right) confer on plans for a broadcast of "Stage 54", heard each Sunday evening on the CBC. As in past years, the "Stage" series will include a large number of original Canadian dramas as well as adaptations of novels and plays, and will star many of the foremost radio actors on the continent.

Grands Reorganize For Season

Bill Fraser was handed the coaching duties for Coleman Grands as the result of a reorganization meeting. Wm. Gate was appointed manager. President Jim Montalbetti and secretary R. Spillers were returned by acclamation while W. Mozell assumed the duties of vice-president. Joe Beigun will head the dance committee. J. Rushton, ticket committee, and W. Fraser, transportation. Aware of the co-operation received last year, the club received votes of thanks to various individuals.

The financial statement for last year showed that Grands had operated for the season without soliciting public donations from the public. Money raised by dances, hot pools and gate receipts purchased considerable equipment, paid outstanding debts and club operating expenses. One outstanding account is on the books at the present and should it be paid, the club will begin with a deficit of $12.13. However, it was felt that the club would be in the black by the time the season opens. Considering the fact that the Grands experienced poor weather last season and had two playoff series postponed, they have closed the season with a deficit that is no doubt, lower than most clubs have experienced even with donations from various sources.

Grands were the only club to ever defeat Great Falls on their home ice last season and topped the A.B.C. League. Grands won 12, lost 5 and tied 1 for the year. The fate of the A.B.C. League for the season is not known but word was received that notice of meeting can be expected. The fact that more towns have installed artificial ice and junior hockey has made its demise points to a greater year for intermediate hockey here this year.

Skip Cleave and George Zowlinski represented Bellevue at the meeting and stated that the eastern center would ice a team and wished to enter the league. Coleman went on record of supporting the Bellevue application, but shelved the suggestion that the two teams form an all star team for the playoffs.

A motion was passed regarding the change of name for the club. It was felt that the club had carried considerable publicity for the firm through the year without any acknowledgment. A letter will be sent notifying that unless the acknowledgment is received the club will consider dropping the name Grands.

Following the meeting Bill Fraser informed the Journal that his duties will be strictly

Red Shield Drive On

Salvation Army officers announced last weekend that the Red Shield Campaign is underway in the district east from Crossstreet to Cowley. Anyone that has not been contacted and wishes to contribute to this worthwhile campaign is asked to get in touch with the Salvation Army headquarters in Coleman.

No one needs to be told the great work that the Army does in both peace and war. This annual campaign affords each and every one the opportunity to show the Army the esteem in which they are held. Your contribution may help someone you know.

SALVATION ARMY ENTERTAINS CHILDREN

An estimated 80 children attended a non-denominational Halloween party on Friday sponsored by the Salvation Army. This first venture proved such a success, Army officers plan on repeating it at a later date.

The evening's entertainment opened with singing followed by a quiz contest with prizes of candy for the winners. Lieut. V. Schaik entertained with demonstration of magic, the most popular act being the placing of a laundry tag in an orange. Pooky the puppet led the boys and girls in a sing-song after which each child received an apple, Halloween kisses and suckers before returning to their homes.

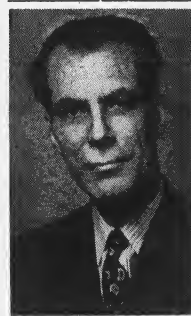

coaching, not playing. The departure of Bill from the ice lanes is received with regret by Coleman fans. His heady playmaking of last year often kept the club in contention and it was quite noticeable that when the going was toughest many of the Playoff plays featured Bill Fraser.

Coleman's Mayor 1st Vice-president Alta. Municipalities

The mayor and all councillors with the exception of Councillor Wood, sat in regular session last Tuesday to discuss various town matters and hear a report on the Alberta Municipalities convention.

Coleman was honored at the Lethbridge convention with Mayor Aboussafy replying to the address of welcome, and later being elected first vice-president of the association. During his remarks Mayor Aboussafy congratulated the City of Lethbridge for its hospitality and the welcome extended. The benefit that towns derive from such conventions is important, the speaker stated, and with the potential great increases in Canada's population it is rightly so that this century belongs to Canada, this being particularly so for Alberta. If this does happen civic problems will become a bigger headache, and we will need more than ever to have a clear mind and steady hand. Our course should be charted with care and deliberation, and those who are elected must stop playing party politics and put their heads together to solve the problems. Councillor Ramsay told council briefly of the vast changes he has noticed since last he attended a convention, noticing the large number of young men in attendance, men who are going after things, men who say something when they talk. The provincial government, he stated, is paying attention to the convention. Coleman was well represented by its mayor, Mr. Ramsay stated, Mayor Aboussafy using every free moment to contact some person or to obtain information.

Councillor Diblee agreed with the remarks of Mr. Ramsay, adding that the convention provided a great deal of meat for thought for both municipal and provincial members.

Closing the report to council, Mayor Aboussafy cited the changing trend of the convention, noticeably that the same men were not dominating the floor and the balance that is represented by young men and more seasoned men. These young men, when they get their feet warm, are going to play an important part in the affairs of the province.

Regular Council Session Short—

Regular business was disposed of without much delay during the meeting. Fire Chief Aldo Montalbetti waited on council, requesting that three additional uniforms and some miscellaneous equipment be purchased. This request was granted. A further request was made by the chief asking that something be done regarding the use of proper ash containers for the business section of town. This matter was discussed and action will be taken.

Leave-of-absence was granted to town employees who are returning for a holiday to their homeland in Italy.

Mr. Johnson, Chief District Maintenance Engineer, wrote thanking the town for drawing to his attention the fact that loose rocks from the cut on No. 3 highway posed a danger to motorists. Mr. Bradley has been asked to investigate.

Town Foreman Joe Malenchuk placed before council the proposed plan for the parking lot on main street. Following some discussion he was instructed to 'look the lot over again, while Mayor Aboussafy obtains measurements and plans of lots in other centres.

Remembrance Day Proclaimed By Town Council

The Mayor and council of the town of Coleman have proclaimed that Wednesday, November 11th will be observed in Coleman as Remembrance Day, in honor of those who gave their lives during two World Wars.

In keeping with the theme, the council authorized the purchase of a wreath which Mayor Aboussafy will lay at the Cenotaph during the services.

It is desirable that each and every person in Coleman attend the Memorial Service to be held that morning and dedicate this day to the true spirit of remembrance, rather than considering it just another holiday.

Coleman Students Collect Foods For Children's Hospital

In response to the local Red Cross Food Appeal of canned goods and vegetables on Friday, October 23 in aid of the Crippled Children's Hospital, Calgary, Coleman students collected a total of 880 canned goods and home preserves, 78 packages of food and 200 pounds of fruit and garden vegetables. These were sorted and boxed by the Junior Red Cross members.

Mr. S. Short, president of the senior branch, arranged for free shipment of the 22 boxes by Dench Transport.

The Red Cross wishes to congratulate the students' on their splendid effort for this worthy cause, and to thank the parents, friends, and anyone who helped in any way.

Cool Production Drops Approximately 10%

An Ottawa announcement reveals that coal production in September dropped to 1,307,000 tons, or 10 per cent below the output of the same month last year. Alberta coal mines, according to Edmonton announcements, produced 476,715 tons of coal during the same month, a drop of 111,598 tons from September, 1952.

The Crows Nest Pass fields led the bituminous field with 133,960 tons.

Booklet issued To Tempt Coal Buyers

A booklet publicizing the Alberta coal resources is being distributed in eastern Canada in a bid for eastern coal markets.

This statement was released by government officials at Edmonton last week. Contents of the book are not known locally at the present time.

Renew Rail Coal Contract

Extension of the special freight rates for coal being hauled from western Canada to eastern points has been granted for five more years by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways.

W. C. Whitaker, in announcing the new extension which will continue until April, 1959, said that while shipments east were not large the rate would give the industry time to reorganize.

Under the agreement the railways allowed rates from the Crows Nest Pass area of British Columbia to Nipigon for $9.10 and to Toronto for $11.35.

In their letter announcing the rates the railway said "... the present rates are not particularly attractive to the rail carriers. However, we appreciate the position that the coal operators in western Canada find themselves as a result of the development of oil and natural gas in the west, and the fact that it is necessary for you to find other outlets ... if some mines are not to be closed down."

EDITORS NOTE.

The pictures on the special Remembrance Day page we picked from the Journal files without consideration of who the servicemen or women were, or their service record. The cuts were selected due to the uniformity of their size, a factor necessary to layout this page. We felt at the time that any page for this day should represent the men and women that served their country, and that readers would not feel that should their sons, daughters or friends be left out, that it reflects any discrimination. Selection boiled down to the matter of whether a certain cut was of the proper size.

QUESTION: Can a physician always tell when he has removed all the cancer?
ANSWER: The only way to tell if all cancer cells have been removed is to wait and see if the growth reappears. If a patient goes for five or more years after treatment without recurrence, there is but small chance of recurrence later in life.

Those winning prizes were: 1st, Judy Holyk, dressed as a beautiful Ballerina; 2nd, Elaine Benko, dressed as a Hula Girl; 3rd, Donna Hurd, dressed as an Old Fashioned Lady.

1st prize for the most comical costume went to Marie Yakula, dressed as a Professional Bum.

Arte judging the costumes the happy Brownies gathered in a Pow-wow ring, sitting on the floor around our make believe campfire, (Lieut.'s hot plate). Grace was said by the group, and supper was served under way. Amusing and many were the remarks past on one another's costume.

Dianne Bencko was a most unusual personality, in a beautiful old lace trimmed gown belonging to an old friend of the family, and dating well back to the "Gay 90's". An upswing hair do, and white gloves completed the costume.

Toasting marshmallows proved an exciting time until the hot-plate went off. Oh! what sighs arose, but with Brown Owl being a very poor electrician he decided to return the (cold) plate.

Judy Holyk, Donna Hurd, and Randy Kinnear were fitted for uniforms.

When the time came for the Brownies to go home, all were lined up for the final treat, of the occasion. Suckers and peanuts were given each, and with the usual "Good-night Brown Owl", and "Good night Brownies", another Halloween party was over.

Memories of such times linger long in the minds of young people. Let us all do our part to make their young lives one of joy, and happiness.

Bye for now — Brown Owl.

Unemployment Insur. Commission

OTTAWA, Ont. — Important amendments to Unemployment Insurance Benefit Regulations with respect to holidays, and money received on separation from employment were announced recently by the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Under the new provisions which are now in effect, benefit is not paid to an employee for the first week of a plant or factory shutdown for a general holiday, regardless of whether the employee is paid for the holiday or not. However, if the shutdown for holidays lasts for more than a week, benefit is paid for days (other than statutory holidays) in the second and subsequent weeks, for which the employee does not receive pay. Holiday pay, received at termination of employment, will not deprive a claimant of benefit.

Another amendment provides that when an employer does not require his employees to work on the day before a statutory holiday, or on the day following the holiday, or on both, benefit will not be paid for any of the days on which the employees do not work.

Formerly, when a person received money from his employer on termination of employment (other than money representing pension payments or for over-time) that person was not paid benefit until the period represented by this money had elapsed. Now all money received on termination will be disregarded in determining whether or not a person is unemployed, unless paid in consideration of the recipient undertaking to return to his former employer when required, in accordance with a guaranteed wage plan, for retirement leave credits, or in lieu of notice. If it is paid in the circumstances just mentioned a person receiving it will not be entitled to benefit until the period represented by the money has elapsed.

Brownie Notes

The 1st Coleman Brownie Pack "S.A." met on Wed. Oct. 21, with twenty Brownies in attendance.

The number of "Twenties" coming into Brownies is most encouraging. Twenties returning their Good Deed cards were: Randy Kinnear, Doreen Fellew, Donna Hurd, Edika Wiedzie, Carlotta Logan, Martha Michalsky, Christina Lowe, Sylvia Fergotti, Denele Shomshor and Caroline Crippen.

Those bringing samples of braiding were: Martha Michalsky, Christian Lowe, Caroline Crippen, Denele Shomshor and Randy Kinnear.

Well done Twenties! Dianne Kenko and Barbara Dickleson, our Golden Hand Brownies, were pleased to take over and teach the Twenties how the Brownie tie is folded, and the special knot tied. This will be a future test for the beginners.

Ruth Clark passed her Nature Test, leaving only one more test before earning her Golden Bar.

An interesting letter was read from "The Arrow", a pamphlet published at the Cammell hospital. It was the experience of a little girl who has spent almost seven years in the hospital, all her childhood thus far; and her extreme joy of soon being able to leave to join her family, and friends at home.

A highlight of the meeting was the singing of "Happy Birthday", in honor of Donna Hurd. She is now eight, and will be a full uniformed Brownie in about two weeks. Congratulations! Donna.

Plans were made for annual Brownie Halloween party. Prizes will be given for the best costumes. Party next Wednesday instead of the usual meeting. The Brownie smile was passed around the Fairy Ring, Carlotta Logan being the last to receive it, must of necessity smile all week, until she passes it on to another Brownie. The meeting came to a happy ending with "Tape".

I would like to thank the leader of the Explorers for changing their meeting to Tuesday, making it possible for the girls to attend both Explorers and the Brownies.

Bye for now, until we can give you some happenings from the party.—Brown Owl.

The Journal has Model 5 Remington Rand portables in stock and students who plan on purchasing their own machines to aid in their typing classes can secure one of these beautiful machines without a moment's delay.

Tourist Activity

Increased activity is being shown by the Crows Nest Pass Tourists and Good Roads Association as time goes by. The association is working regularly contacting the Boards of Trade from the eastern entrance at Ft. Macleod to the western entrance at Cranbrook asking that they be represented by two delegates to the association.

A campaign will get underway at a later date to raise funds for the printing of a folder and map to publicize the area and to conduct tours for staffs of the tourist bureaus.

The work contemplated by this group will fill a long wanted need for this district.

Roads throughout the Pass are comparable if not better than those found in most sections and are steadily being improved. Word reaching this office last week stated that the Lyons Creek Blairmore is being replaced by a new structure, while B.C. crews are busy at the western end. A new bridge is being constructed near Knight's Sawmill and a new approach being made to the hill at that point. The treacherous narrow road west of the new bridge is being widened and the grade reduced.

Rules Pertaining To School Buses

When a conveyance, which bears either a sign "School Bus" or "School Van" has stopped to receive or discharge passengers, no driver of a vehicle shall overtake or pass such conveyance until all persons who are about to enter or leave the same, are safely clear of the path of the vehicle.

It is an offence for persons to congregate and block the sidewalk so as not to allow other persons the use of the said sidewalk, or to refuse to move from such place when requested to do so by a peace officer.

More than half of the hardwood flooring produced in Canada is made from birch.

World Happenings In Pictures

THE CARON FLAG—If the parliamentary flag committee is revived after the house reconvenes this month, as rumors suggest, the lack of a Canadian Flag may again be a live issue. A flag that will get a lot of support is shown above. The flag, designed by Montrealer A. L. Caron, is quartered into four sections of Royal Blue transversed by a white cross with—in the centre—a circle of white bordered by 10 red stars and a maple leaf centred.

VISITS CANADA—R. G. Casey, (left), Australian Minister for External Affairs, who is visiting Canada for talks with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and the Canadian cabinet, chats with Hon. D. C. Abbott, Minister of Finance, during a recent meeting in Ottawa. Mr. Casey is Australia's top diplomat and chief delegate to the United Nations of Commonwealth finance ministers.

HE WORKS WITH PRECISION—Roger Fouquereau, of Montreal, first sightless television assembly worker in Canada, uses a soldering iron as he takes his place in industry. Use of the iron is no problem for Roger, who began assembly work three months after losing his sight—the shortest rehabilitation period for any person registered with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

GUMMED UP—Sergeant First Class Ralph D. Craig, of Salinas, Calif., and Leesville, La., watches his pet monkey, "Chitto", open a stick of chewing gum. SFC Craig obtained the monkey, now the company mascot of 1st Ordnance Co., X Corps, Korea, in Japan while on leave. "Chitto" is two years old and likes cigarettes, chewing gum and beer. Craig's wife, Geraldine, lives in Leesville, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Craig, in Salinas.

TRIESTE—This strange, banana-shaped undersea craft, christened "Trieste", carried bespectacled Professor August Piccard, (right), and his son, Jacques, to the bottom of the Tyrrhenian Sea in a record, 10,334-foot plunge. The descent was made off the Island of Ponza, Italy, and was deeper than any ever before reached by man. The design of this oddly-shaped $80,000 diving box is in sharp contrast to the spherical steel bathyspheres used by the 69-year-old professor in previous descents. Spectacles with hinged second lenses lend a touch of the bizarre to the long-haired scientist who first gained fame in 1932 when he ascended more than 10 miles above the earth in his gondola.

NEW U.S. CHIEF JUSTICE—Governor Earl Warren, of California, who was named by President Eisenhower to be Chief Justice of the United States. The recess appointment of Warren, 62-year-old Republican, as successor to the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who died Sept. 8, is subject to Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January.

MAPLE CREEK'S JASPER STREET—The above is a picture of Maple Creek's (Sask.) Jasper Street. The Editor of the Maple Creek News has this to say about his town and Jasper street: "In the past we have made a few trips that put miles behind us and took us through a number of towns, large and small. We didn't see any town that appealed to us any more than our own home town. Maple Creek is a nice, modern town—an oasis in the southwest of Saskatchewan. In order to acquaint all our readers with the town of which we are so proud, we print the above picture, looking south up our main street. We know former Maple Creekites will appreciate the memories this photo will recall and we feel sorry for them, but realize we can't all be lucky enough to call Maple Creek our home."

IN LINE FOR PRIZE—Horse, cowpuncher and calf are all in line as Bob Nordome races into the job of throwing and tying the animal at the 50th Western Washington Fair Rodeo at Puyallup, Wash. Bob's time of 14 seconds flat was the fastest of the nine-day rodeo.

CAROL WAS A ROUGH GIRL—The "Queen of Bermuda" met "Carol", and when the two "girls" finished fighting, here is how the lounge of the luxury liner Queen of Bermuda appeared when she reached port. Tussle with the hurricane given the name of "Carol" by weathermen, resulted in injuries to 80 passengers vacation-bound from New York to Bermuda. The ship itself suffered considerable damage as the eye of the hurricane passed within 40 miles of her course.

SKIRT'S A HAT—Little Pamela Enes seems to be enjoying her role as a hula dancer on the Candado sands at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Her "hula" skirt is a converted fibro para, the straw hat that protects her from the tropical sun.

NICE FOR SQUEEZING—Gloria Skare gives just the right touch of sweetness to some of the more than one billion pounds of lemons which Californians grow each year, as she presides over the lemon exhibit at the Los Angeles County Fair, at Pomona.

SOUVENIRS—Nine-year-old Carolyn Olds, of New York, proudly displays her new collection of dolls as she arrives home. They will always remind her of her four-month European vacation, as she acquired a different doll in each country she visited.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

No Charity Given

By Florence Witz

ELLEN paused at the window to watch her husband, come in hand, make his way in from the barn with a pail of milk. Her mind was on the desk, with its papers covered with figures. Ellen and Floyd had spent hours going over and over their calculations. They all came to the same result: their expenses for the year would be more than they could produce. She took the pail from Floyd as he came in. I've been wondering," he said, "if we couldn't sell old Bess to that new farmer. He might need another cow."

"Bess wouldn't bring enough to make the difference and we'd have to buy milk," she said. He sighed, "I was just thinking."

Yes, Ellen knew, just thinking. They'd been turning and twisting for the last four months, since Floyd became crippled with arthritis and couldn't put in a crop. Floyd glanced at the clock. "When do you expect Irene and Howard?"

"I guess we'll have to ask Howard for the money." How she dreaded it. Howard and his little black books!

She remembered the day Irene and Howard were married. Amid the festivity she had come across Howard in the pantry, carefully writing in a little black book.

"I keep a strict account of every cent I spend," he explained. "So far," he consulted the record, "this marriage has cost me one hundred and thirty-five cents."

Ellen had been disgusted. After the honeymoon when Irene and Howard settled down to housekeeping, there had been a set of black books for Irene. Every loaf of bread, every spool of thread, had to be recorded. But Irene seemed happy enough. Indeed, her marriage appeared to grow stronger with the years. Ellen used often to wonder how she could love a man like that.

"Maybe he has good points I don't see," she told Floyd. Now Floyd asked, "Did you put away the cream for Irene and Howard?"

"Yes," Ellen answered from the pantry. "I'll get another bag of potatoes."

He took his cane and limped toward the barn. Ellen did the dishes and skimmed the cream. As she filled the jar she thought of all the quarts of cream and bags of potatoes they'd given Irene and Howard.

Once she had said to Floyd, "Howard keeps track of every cent Irene spends, but he never hesitates to take all he can get and hold it in his hand for more."

"I know," Floyd said, "but I couldn't bear to be stingy with food."

So through the years a stream of things from the farm had gone to them, strawberries and cherries in the spring, potatoes and pork in the fall.

At two o'clock Irene and Howard drove up in their fine new car. Howard certainly wasn't hard up. Irene was flushed with happiness at being home. Howard seemed glad to see them. Ellen made tea and brought apples and doughnuts.

Finally Floyd cleared his throat. "There's a little matter I wanted to bring up," he said. Ellen could feel her heart thudding.

Howard sat back and looked at Floyd, his eyes narrowing. Floyd explained about the impossibility of making ends meet with his bad leg, keeping him from work.

Oh, Howard, Irene cried, tears in her eyes, "you can help them."

"You know I never give charity," Howard answered, coldly. "Charity" Ellen's face was after.

"However," Howard's hand went to his pocket, "I don't see why you should need help." He looked at Floyd. "I don't suppose you have kept a list of the stuff we have had from you?"

Floyd, staring, shook his head. "I didn't think you would," Howard said, with satisfaction, "but I have. Everything—each year in a separate book."

"I've meant them as gifts," "I don't take something for nothing, neither," Howard said. "But I thought it might wait until you needed it. I can give you a cheque today for the full amount."

Howard put on his glasses and consulted the little black book. "Over eighteen years, not counting today's, which I haven't put in yet, it's two thousand, two hundred and fifty-four dollars, exactly."

There was silence. Ellen looked up and saw Irene's eyes fastened lovingly on Howard. At last she understood.

Alta. Couple Make Child Care Objective

EDMONTON.—On a grain field 45 miles south of Edmonton sits a large red and green barrack-like building—finished—but home for a number of Alberta children.

Inside the three-storey frame structure, a man and his wife with a small group of helpers play the roles of father, mother and teacher to 46 youngsters from broken homes.

The children, ranging in age from six months to 15 years, live in the building and it is there they go to school.

The Bethany Home for Children, operated by 35-year-old Harvey J. Jespersen, takes under its wing children of broken marriages. Those in charge draw no salary.

"They consider it missionary work," says Mr. Jespersen. The building was established six years ago for what was to be the European Christian orphanage.

Original sponsors hoped to bring 500 displaced European children to Canada and this was to be the reception centre.

However, the scheme fell through. Mr. and Mrs. Jespersen, who had been in at the start, stayed because "we always were interested in looking after children and we wanted to set up a home for them."

Although he was disappointed when the first project failed, Mr. Jespersen agreed to a suggestion that he take over the building.

He and Mrs. Jespersen soon found themselves surrounded by more and more children. They now have 36 school-age and nine pre-school youngsters to look after.

There were six or seven children the first year and more than a dozen the second. Mr. Jespersen applied for a licence to operate a private school and soon grades one to eight were being taught by two women teachers.

In the basement are a laundry, an ancient boiler and a cold storage unit donated by business men from the nearby town of Camrose. On the main floor are bedrooms where the children sleep and corridors where they play. Classes are held in two rooms upstairs.

Most of the rooms are furnished with necessities only—beds, dressers and a few pictures on the wall. Classrooms are stocked with second-hand books. There are not enough desks to go around and tables are used as substitutes.

The home charges parents $20 a month. Mr. Jespersen says this often is not paid.

Numerous organizations have pitched in to help and the provincial government may make a grant to the home.

World Series Interest Ran High At Watson

The following appeared in The Watson Witness and the interest that existed there is only one of the many prairie communities where interest for the world baseball classic runs nearly as high as the fans have right where the games are held.

"Interest in the World Series runs just as high at Watson as at Yankee Stadium or Ebbetts Field, and a considerable number of greenbacks changed hands at the end of each game."

The final game had an added interest in Watson when it was learned that Orville Ranger and Vince Zobooski had an unusual bet on the game. The loser was scheduled to appear on Main street noon on Tuesday and, with his nose, push a peanut the length of one section of cement walk. About 50 people gathered to watch Vince propel the peanut using a large peanut with the help of a large false nose and the co-operation of a stiff breeze, he covered the stretch in about five minutes. Among the onlookers was Barney Smith of the Star theatre who made a moving picture of the performance. No doubt, this will be included in the next "Home Movies" shown at the local theatre."

VALUABLE HARBOR

In the past 50 years, receding glaciers have given British Columbia a deep-water, ice-free harbor at Tarr inlet on the northern coast.

STRAWBERRY, CROCUS BLOOMS IN OCTOBER

LASHBURN, Sask. — Among the flowers used in the decorations for the harvest festival service on Sunday in All Saints' Anglican church here were crocus blooms. Other spring flowers which have made their appearance are strawberry blossoms. The seasons seem to be turning around.

Redwater Field Continues Major Oil Producer

Crude oil production during July, 1953, totalled 7,723,760 barrels, making total production for the first seven months of the year 39,445,594 barrels.

Largest crude oil producing field is still Redwater which produced 12,423,731 in the largest contribution to Alberta crude oil production.

Natural gas production during July totalled 7,419,871 mscf., making the total production for the seven months of 1953, 65,153,404 mscf.

RED DEER, Alta.—Henry Hart, a member of the original church built 44 years ago, turned the first sod for the new $75,000 Baptist church that has been started here.

NEEDLEPOINT IN FINGER FINALLY COMES OUT AFTER FOURTEEN YEARS

SOURIS, Man.—About 14 years ago, while sewing through some heavy material on the sewing machine, Mrs. H. P. Wright sewed through the end of her middle finger of her left hand, breaking the point of the needle. The tiny point was not found at the time. Three weeks ago a little red spot developed on Mrs. Wright's palm, and investigation with tweezers disclosed the missing needle point.

Daylight saving time at present operates in Indian Head only from April to November. Year-round fast time is in effect at Waseley, Grenfell and a number of other nearby points.

Good Turnout At Civil Defence

(Contributed)

Civil Defence co-ordinator J. McDonald welcomed the 50 odd persons to the first Civil Defence school. He emphasized the need for public participation and asked the group to spread the word. It should be pointed out that it is not necessary to become a worker in the C.D. organization.

ization. The public is invited to attend these schools so that they may become familiar with the setup and to know whom to call in case of emergencies.

Mr. Allen addressed the group on the setup of C.D. organization on Canadian provincial and international levels. The wartime purpose of the C.D. is to limit injuries to personnel and value damage to properties. In wartime the civilian population will be on its own. He then outlined the C.D. organization pointing out the work of the Canadian government and the armed forces.

"We must keep in mind," Mr. Allen said "That we are not an isolated part, but a functional part of a large scheme."

Following the general lectures the various sections of civil defence workers took up their own work. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Bayon lectured on Home Nursing; gas training lectured on by J. Kinnear; first aid was handled by E. Hill, while the head-quarter's section and wardens' section worked in recording stores and maps.

C.D. is your business.

People shop where they are invited—that's why it pays to advertise.

Advertising acts as a tonic to any head of business enterprise
